RE: Speaking Invitation
George Mason University School of Law
George Mason Campus
Fairfax, Virginia
Saturday, 28 May 1988

STAT

Mr. Henry G. Manne, Dean of the George Mason University School of Law and [redacted] has invited you to speak at the Law School commencement on Saturday, 28 May at the Patriot Center on the main campus of the University in Fairfax. Commencement begins at 11:00 a.m. and the ceremony would be structured to fit your schedule. The suggested format is 15 - 20 minutes of remarks on a topic of your choice. You would be free to leave immediately and not stay through the degree granting ceremonies.

Approximately 1500 parents, faculty, and 150 graduating law students would make up the audience. Since many of the graduates are federal workers who have taken their degrees at night, you would find an older student than is typical. The University would plan to videotape your appearance, and the media would be invited if you wish to publicize your appearance.

This will be the second commencement since Dean Manne has assumed his post. Last year's commencement speaker was The Honorable Robert Bork.

The George Mason University has a growing reputation and stature as a law school. If you plan to be in this area on Memorial Day weekend, I recommend that you accept this invitation. (You also have an invitation pending to speak at the 50th Country Day Reunion in St. Louis on Friday, 27 May.) Because your plans over Memorial Day weekend may make it difficult for you to accept both invitations, I have attached both a letter of acceptance and one of regret for your signature, pending your decision.

Dear Dean Manne:

Thank you for your invitation to give the commencement address at the George Mason University School of Law at the Patriot Center in Fairfax on Saturday, May 28th. Since I have a conflict in my schedule, I am unable to accept the honor.

I wish you every success in your new position as Dean of the Law School.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Baker:

I am writing you at the suggestion of [redacted]

[redacted] As Dean of the George Mason University School of Law, I have been requested by a committee of the Student Bar Association to extend an invitation to Judge Webster to give our commencement address on Saturday, May 28, 1988. I would like to add my own personal interest in having Judge Webster for this occasion. This will be only the second commencement since I have assumed the deanship, and it would certainly be a further mark of the growing reputation and stature of this Law School if Judge Webster would honor us with his presence.

The commencement is held in the Patriot Center on the main campus of the University in Fairfax. However, the Law School ceremony is separate from that of the rest of the University. Judge Webster would give his fifteen to twenty minute Commencement address shortly after the ceremony opened at 11:00 a.m. He would be free to leave immediately and not stay through the degree granting ceremonies.

I do hope that you will use your good offices to urge Judge Webster to honor us on this happy and important occasion.

Yours sincerely,

Henry G. Manne
Dean, School of Law

RE: Invitation to Speak
50th Country Day Reunion
Country Day School
St. Louis, MO
27 May 1988

Chairman of the 50th Country Day Reunion Tom Collins has invited you to be the keynote speaker at the reunion honoring "The Great '38" on Friday, 27 May 1988. According to Mr. Collins, the Headmaster, Dr. Johnson, will speak to the alumni and there will be the usual presentation of awards.

I understand that you may be in the St. Louis area for the Memorial Day weekend, and if so, you may wish to add this to your list of activities. Otherwise, I recommend that you decline this invitation. Depending on your decision, I have attached both a letter of acceptance and regret for your signature.

Dear Bill:

I wonder if it might be possible for you to be the Keynote Speaker at the Country Day School general Reunion on Friday evening, May 27, 1987?

Let me tell you what my thinking is here. For more years than I can remember this annual affair has been little more than baseball, tennis, beer, steaks, seeing old friends, and some rather dull talks by various staff and Alumni members all praising each other. All in all, not something that would make the average Alumnus want to return, particularly if he were not living in St. Louis.

This coming year our Class as the Reunion Leader is seeking ways to make this gathering not only more fun, but also more significant. In short, to provide some positive reason for returning. For example: moving from Thursday to Friday gives the out of town working Alumnus a minimal loss of office time; seminars will be held on various topics of interest, such as the future of private secondary education, etc. Different social functions will be a part of the weekend. There will be the usual presentation of awards, the Headmaster, Dr. Johnson, will speak to the Alumni body, with you making the major address. Things of this nature will tend to raise the awareness of the Country Day family, and would be the first of continuing steps to make this particular weekend increasingly important to the Community, the School, and the Alumni.

I do hope you can be with us. You have so many friends here it would be nice to have you "home again."

Sincerely,

Tom Collins

Well, one other thought after thinking: if time is a constraint go. I know it would be, you could fly in Sat afternoon or Friday return Friday night is easygoing and be over by 9:00 or 9:30 at the latest - do hope you can make it - it would be mean & help
